

Local Technical Committees (LTC)

As part of the project partners from each country has formed Local Quality Committees with relevant agents of the care sector to detect needs and best practices in the area of home care.

Introduction

QAVAD is an Erasmus KA2 project to be developed from September 2019 to August 2022. The objectives of QAVAD are to prevent the isolation of people in vulnerable situations at home and their families, to improve and diversify the training offer for home carers, to promote the coordination of services working with elderly people at home and to support good practice between partners.

The project manager is Etcharry Formation Développement and the partners are Matia, Nazaret, Laguntza Etxerart, Gaves and Bidouze Association, Cefal, the Department of Educational Sciences of the University of Bologna, Solco Insieme, Randers Social og Sundhedsskole

LTC Spain

The Spanish Local Technical Committee 's first meeting took place in San Sebastian in December 2019. Thirty participants from different institutions (Health Department, Social Department, municipalities, care homes, home care services, research centres, non profit organizations, Vocational Education and Training Institutions, Foundations...) took part in a very interesting meeting where QAVAD was presented and best practices and needs in the territory where openly discussed

LTC Italy

Maria Grazia (CEFAL), Sebastiano (Coop. Ida Poli-Solco Insieme), Aurora (UNIBO), Paola (Coop. Ida Poli-Solco Insieme), Elena (UNIBO), Giacomo (CEFAL), Rita (CEFAL), Lorenza (UNIBO).

We are some of the members of basic Italian Local Committee. We work together in this project coming from three different actors operating in Bologna area territory: the Department of Educational Science of the University of Bologna, CEFAL (professional training organization) and Ida Poli Coop. for Solco Insieme (group of social cooperatives). Waiting to join other welcome local partner. Far but close.

First Transnational Meeting in Ustariz

The new ERASMUS KA2 QAVAD project had its first transnational meeting in Ustaritz the 24th and the 25th of October 2019.

The partners work through the project planning with a special focus on the development of the intellectual output 1: Collection of best practices in home care in the 4 countries of the partner institutions

Second Transnational Meeting

The second transnational meeting, scheduled in Denmark, took place online on 21 and 22 April 2020. At this meeting, the first intellectual result of the best practices in home care from the 4 participating countries were presented, with more than 30 good practices detected. This transnational meeting also marked the start of work on the second and third intellectual outcome: Training programme.

LTC DENMARK

Denmark has created the Danish Local Technical Committee for the contribution, follow up and guidance of the QAVAD project in Denmark. The Local Technical committee consists of both teachers and staff from Randers Social- & Sundhedsskole and representatives from local partner institutions such as the -municipalities of Randers, Favrskov, Norddjurs and Syddjurs as well as nursing homes and hospitals.

LTC FRANCE

The Local Technical Committee (LTC) represents all the stakeholders in our area who are directly involved in the support of elderly people at home. Its aim is to supervise the project's approach and to provide timely feedback, readjusting the progress of the work if necessary in order to verify the impact of its actions.

QAVAD was presented in its entirety to the LTC participants. In order to feed QAVAD's first intellectual production, i.e. an inventory of good practices in training and on the professional level in our territory, the first feedback from the CTL was collected.
